Comment on the following problem:

Elderly people who live alone should be taken care of.

Write 100–120 words.

I think a monitoring system is good idea. Older people with such a system more comfortable to live. To come up with such a system is a the right solution. This is a very movie. This is very important for the elderly, because they are safe. With such a system, elderly good health feel safe and secure. Children can not worry about the safety of their old parents. There are many useful technologies in Japan. This system is one of the most useful. Japan starts developing unmanned ships. All their technologies are different good quality. Japanese technology is one of the most demanding. Monitoring system: one of the best system in the world.
